

Barbara Broadbear, Ph.D., M.P.H., CIC

Associate Professor and Director of the School of Exercise Science & Sport
Millikin University
Decatur, Illinois

Barbara Broadbear is associate professor and director of the School of Exercise Science & Sport at Millikin University, where she leads programs in exercise science, physical education, athletic training, and sport and recreation management. Her teaching focuses on exercise physiology and mind-body health. Her prior work included worksite wellness, medical-based wellness and community health education.