Partner

Cohen, Weiss and Simon LLP
New York, New York

Jonathan is a partner in the employee benefits department of Cohen, Weiss and Simon LLP with over 20 years of experience representing sponsors of multiemployer and single employer plans. He maintains a broad employee benefits practice, where he regularly wrestles the most complex aspects of ERISA and tax law and provides straight talk with respect to qualified pension plans, health plans and compensation arrangements. In addition to advising plan sponsors on the design, operation, merger and termination of plans, Jonathan's practice includes advising ERISA fiduciaries on the investment of plan assets and the prohibited transaction rules. Having handled dozens of investigations and audits conducted by the Department of Labor, IRS and PBGC, he has significant experience handling ERISA controversies, particularly those involving fiduciary matters and alleged statutory violations.
