

Jeffrey Chang

Partner

Best Best & Krieger LLP
Sacramento, California

With over four decades of experience, Best Best & Krieger LLP Partner Jeff Chang skillfully evaluates benefit and retirement plans for compliance and maximum outcomes for clients. A member of the employee benefits and executive compensation practice group, Jeff represents government agencies, nonprofits, businesses, tax-exempt, charter schools and church clients. Jeff is one of the most experienced employee benefits attorneys in California. He works closely with his clients on every aspect of retirement plan design, compliance and correction, as well as fiduciary compliance and executive compensation. More than 125 public agencies have put their trust in Jeff's practiced evaluation of their opportunities and obligations under the California Employees' Pension Reform Act of 2013, the California Constitution, CalPERS and CalSTRS. He particularly focuses on special employee benefits legal considerations that apply to public employers and local government agencies in California, and he has authored the FocusOn-PublicBenefits.com blog for 15 years. He has taught qualified retirement plans and deferred compensation courses in the masters of taxation program at McGeorge School of Law and is a charter fellow of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel, which has recognized Jeff for his significant contributions to the employee benefits field. He has been regularly included on the Best Lawyers in America and Northern California Super Lawyers lists for his contributions and successes in the field.
