

Reyna Gilmore-Gordon, M.D.

Child and Adolescent Psychiatrist
Cincinnati, Ohio

Certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, Dr. Reyna Gilmore-Gordon is a graduate of the Howard University College of Medicine and served her residency at Morehouse School of Medicine. She completed a child and adolescent psychiatry fellowship at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center, where she was the chief fellow. While she was a faculty member of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, she served as the attending physician of Cincinnati Children's inpatient child and adolescent psychiatry unit, as well as an outpatient psychiatrist. Dr. Gilmore-Gordon currently serves patients at several community mental health agencies in Cincinnati. Her specialty areas of interest include attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), anxiety, depression, diversity and culture, family relational issues, and trauma. Dr. Gilmore-Gordon is also extremely active in community service.