Client Success Manager

Big Health

Tampa, Florida

Emily Hardesty has been a client success manager with Big Health since early 2022. Her career spans senior living, hospice, and managed care, and she has brought that expertise to the mental health space at Big Health. With over ten years of health care experience, Emily transitioned into the mental health industry, driven by a clear passion for supporting individuals' well-being. Her role as a client success manager allows her to work with a range of clients, tailoring Big Health's solutions to meet the diverse needs of companies and their employees. Emily received her M.B.A degree from Virginia Commonwealth University and has a B.A. degree from Virginia Tech.
