

Christopher J. Parker Jr., Esq.

Shareholder
Tucker Arensberg, P.C.
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Christopher J. Parker Jr. is a shareholder in the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania office of Tucker Arensberg, P.C. His practice focuses on employee benefits and ERISA litigation, primarily representing joint union-management employee benefit trust clients in federal courts to collect withdrawal liability and delinquent employer contributions. In addition to his litigation practice, Christopher works with multiemployer pension and welfare plans to develop programs, materials and policies to improve employer compliance with trust fund obligations, reduce delinquencies and support positive relationships between unions and trust funds. Prior to joining Tucker Arensberg, he worked in Washington, D.C., where he pursued and defended litigation in both federal and state courts involving complex statutes and regulations. Christopher also represented disabled veterans against the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh (B.A. degree in philosophy and English literature) and Duquesne University School of Law (J.D.). In addition to the International Union of Painters and Allied Trades Professional Forums, Christopher has spoken at local group or bar association programs and written numerous articles for legal publications.
