

Thomas E. Pfundstein, Ph.D.

Director of Curriculum and Instruction
IUPAT Finishing Trades Institute
Hanover, Maryland

Dr. Pfundstein is the director of curriculum and instruction for the Finishing Trades Institute in Hanover, Maryland. In this role, he is responsible both for organizing the educational and instructional programs and for quality control regarding curriculum, instruction and assessment for the apprenticeship/journeyperson, train-the-trainer and union leadership curricula. Dr. Pfundstein has over 20 years of professional experience as an educator. He has been involved in the research, development, implementation and maintenance of curriculum and instruction programs. Dr. Pfundstein's expertise includes curriculum development; academic content standards; teacher/instructor preparation and training; and technology integration at the K-12, university, post-secondary and corporate levels in both the traditional classroom setting and online learning environment. He earned a B.A. degree from Ohio Wesleyan University in politics and government, an M.A. degree from John Carroll University in modern American history and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Akron in secondary education with an emphasis in curriculum and instruction.